

Information Management Services

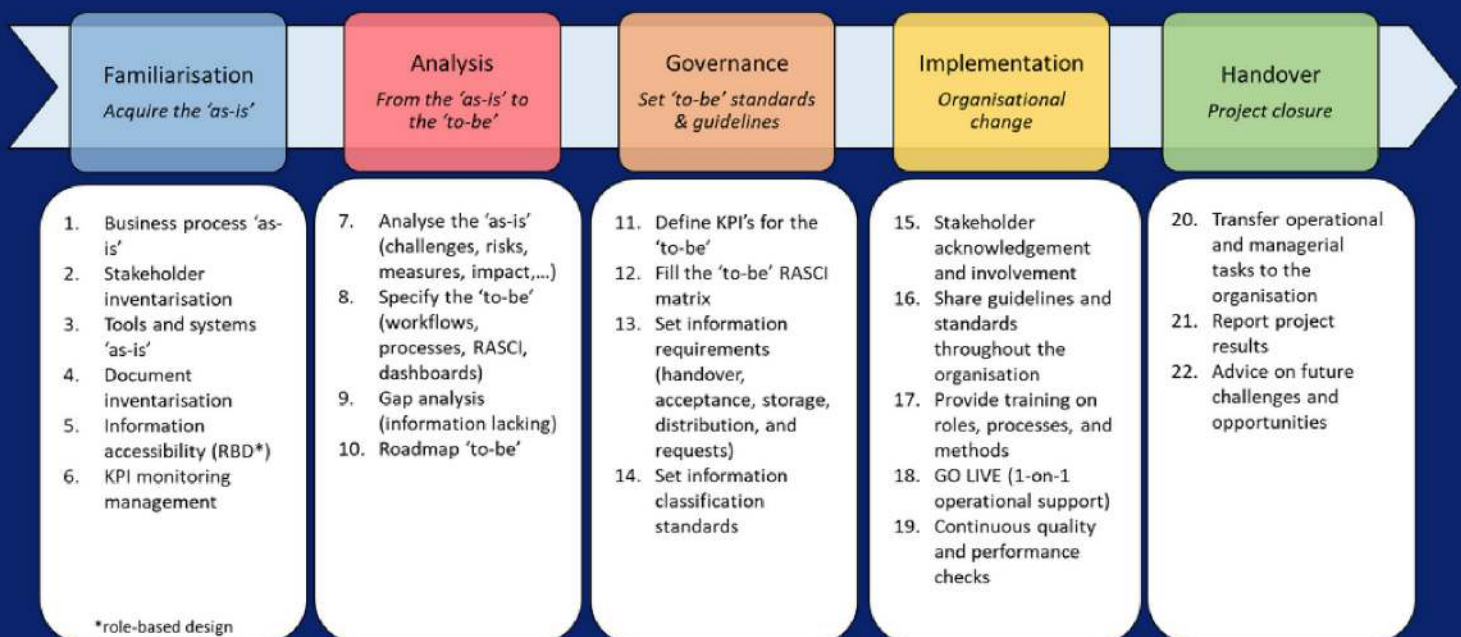

Unlock the value of your information with MareVisie's Information Management Services

To take the right steps to get more mature in information management is often difficult for companies that are occupied by their day-to-day business and operations.

MareVisie can help you in the maturation of information management within your organisation. Our method guarantees a smooth transition from scattered processes towards a valuable information system and management process, that is lived throughout the enterprise, and that is based on the 9-fields model of Rick Maes.

The approach of MareVisie reduces the risk of over-running and over-spending, and we always keeps you up-to-date on each stage of the project.

The MareVisie information management approach

Benefits of working with us

- + Information management based on your needs
- + Continuous alignment with IT delivery
- + Expert team and tools available to enable information management
- + Measurable results
- + Ensure data readiness and quality with validation steps
- + Reduced risk of errors and diminishing support during GO-LIVE